Irdai wants life firms to eye Forward rate agreements back 50% premium growth in 5 yrs

Mumbai, 15 July

n a first-of-its-kind advisothe Insurance . Regulatory Development Authority of India (Irdai) has proposed premium growth targets over a five-year period for life insurance companies, in a bid to double insurance penetration in the country.

In e-mail communications to the MDs and CEOs of life insurance companies, the insurance regulator has suggested a gross written premium (GWP) growth target for each insurer.

insurer indicative targets in terms of total GWP for the next five years," said Rushabh deputy CEO. Gandhi. IndiaFirst Life Insurance, told Business Standard, "It has also offered to discuss any regulatory support that the insurer may need to meet the target. Overall, this will help increase the insurance penetration in the country substantially."

While Irdai has proposed a target of 30 per cent compound GWP over five years for top-tier lator aims to grow insurance

- Irdai has prescribed targets depending on size and distribution of the company
- Aim is to increase insurance penetration
- Large insurers have been given 30% premium growth guidance
- For smaller companies, it ranges from 40-50%
- Life insurance penetration is 3.2% while overall insurance penetration stands at 4.20%

"Irdai has given each life insurers because of their large base, it has suggested 50 per cent CAGR for smaller companies. GWP is the sum of new business premium and renewal premium. The regulator has also identified a state for each insurer where it should spearhead the push for increased insurance penetration.

"Irdai has sent separate emails to individual companies prescribing growth targets. All life insurance companies have annual growth rate (CAGR) in been given targets. The regu-

If every insurance company drives growth. the overall insurance penetration will certainly increase,' said the CEO of a life insurance

Queries over an e-mail sent to Irdai did not elicit a response until the time of going to press.

According to Irdai's annual report, the life insurance penetration in India is 3.20 per cent etration in the country is just 4.20 per cent. Insurance penetration is measured as a percentage of GDP. "Since Irdai has a developmental role, it is perfectly within its realms to prescribe targets to insurance companies," said an insurance industry veteran.

While the regulator has prescribed targets for individual life insurance companies, there is no clarity on whether insurers will face any action for failing to achieve such targets.

"There is no clarity on what the repercussions would be if companies failed to achieve the target. It's a five-year plan and it's not that the regulator will not be asking us to show our progress every two months. As of now, the regulator has not said that part of the remuneration of the MD/CEO shall be linked to such targets," said the person quoted above.

In the past few months, ever since Debasish Panda took over as chairman of Irdai, the regulator has brought in a slew of changes in regulations, making it easier for insurance companies to create innovative products and bring them to in vogue, flatten yield curve

With the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) announcing two rate hikes since May, the June quarter was challenging for banks when it came to managing their bond

While government bond yields hardened across maturities, securities maturing in 30 years and above witnessed a much smaller yield increase. Bond prices fall when yields rise and vice versa. In 2022, so far, the yields on five year and 10-year government bonds have surged 131 basis points and 93 basis points, respectively. The yields on 30-year and 40year bonds, on the other hand, climbed 62 and 58 basis points, respectively.

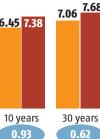

The slower pace of rise in longer-term bond vields has contributed significantly to the flattening of the sovereign yield curve. This implies a relatively low cost of funds for entities whose long-term borrowings are benchmarked to government securities. According to treasury officials, a key factor that facilitated firm demand for longer-term bonds — and hence capped the rise in their yields — was increased use of derivative transactions between insurers and certain banks.

The transactions in question, Forward Rate Agreements (FRAs), essentially enabled insurers to lock in a fixed rate of interest rate for a future pay-out, thus helping guarantee specified returns to customers. Foreign banks were said to be buying long-term bonds on behalf of insurance companies. Under the current norms, INDIA G-SEC YIELD the RBI permits FRAs but does not permit bond forwards in the Indian government securities market. A bond forward trade would entail the transfer of a security from the books of one entity in the trade to another. In an FRA, the two counterparties to the trade agree to receive or pay the difference that stands between an agreed rate and the rate of interest prevailing on a date in the future. The transaction is based on a notional amount, with the underlying being government security.

The growing use of the trade stems from the fact that bond yields have seen large swings over the past year due to huge debt supply, rising inflation, and the commencement of the RBI's rate hike cycle.

Treasury officials said trades worth over ₹2 trillion were linked to FRAs. These trades were said to have started a couple of years ago. Foreign banks were said to be utilising such a trade as a means to bet on the rising interest rate environment and earn a sizeable 'carry' or spread over the relevant cost of funds — in this case, the one-year overnight indexed swap rate.

"Insurers need a mechanism by which they can lock in today's rate of 7.5 per cent or 6.5 per cent or whatever the rate is on their product. If they want to lock in the rate, they enter into an FRA with a foreign bank. Thereby after one year, they lock in a bond yield which prevails now," said a senior treasury executive at a foreign bank.

'Where banks have an advantage is that banks are leveraged players. They can buy the bond and the funding rate will be a bit above the call money market or a bit above the OIS market. Then the bank says that since the average funding rate for the next year will be 6.10 per cent, it will charge the insurance company 60 or 70 basis points above that. So, the bank earns that carry of 60-70 bps," the executive said.
